Schedule D, Part X, Line 2 - The Center follows Financial Accounting Standards Board guidance on accounting for uncertainty in income taxes, which addresses the determination of whether tax benefits claimed or expected to be claimed on a tax return should be recorded in the financial statements. Under this guidance the Center may recognize the tax benefit from an uncertain tax position only if it is more likely than not that the tax position will be sustained on examination by taxing authorities, based on the technical merits of the position. Examples of tax positions include the tax-exempt status of the Center, and various positions related to the potential sources of unrelated business taxable income (UBIT). The tax benefits recognized in the financial statement from such a position are measured based on the largest benefit that has a greater than 50 percent likelihood of being realized upon ultimate settlement. The guidance on accounting for uncertainty in income taxes also addresses de-recognition, classification, interest and penalties on income taxes, and accounting in interim periods. At December 31, 2010 and 2009, there were no material unrecognized tax benefits identified or recorded as liabilities.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 11a - The 990 return is prepared by the director of finance and reviewed for accuracy by a CPA (former board member and member of the finance committee). After this review it is presented to the finance committee of the board for review and discussion before being given to the entire board for review at a board meeting. Each board member receives an electronic copy of the completed 990 and a copy of the instructions.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 12c - The conflict of interest policy is reviewed with all new board members before they fill out the disclosure form. All board members update the disclosure form annually and they are reviewed by the Center's President & CEO. If any potential conflict arises during the year it is addressed with the entire board and the board member with the conflict abstains from board discussion and voting on any matter related to the conflict.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 15 - The executive committee of the board conducts a compensation survey of President/CEO positions of similar nonprofit organizations prior to conducting the annual review of the Center's President & CEO. The committee then uses this information to determine the President & CEO's compensation. The annual review is conducted by the Board Chair. The President & CEO is the only officer or key employee of the Center. The survey of compensation was last done in late 2009.

Form 990, Part VI, Section C, Line 19 - The audited financial statement is posted on the Center's website and Guidestar's website. It is also available upon request. The Center's governing documents and conflict of interest policy are also available upon request.

community, providing services to a local Parkinson's support group for adults. During weekly sessions, the group worked with a speech therapist to strengthen oral motor skills, memory, voice volume, breathing and posture - all of which are commonly impacted by the disease. The speech department also provided education and instruction to other professionals at training seminars held locally, statewide and nationally.

Third Program Service Accomplishments Description

Description

Outreach Program provides hearing screenings and educational hearing aid seminars for seniors so they may understand the effects of hearing loss and be aware of their diagnostic and rehabilitative options. The program provides information and resources to seniors so they can function independently or maintain their level of functioning so they may remain productive in their personal lives as well as in their communities. The Center continued its Hear for Life hearing conservation program which targets 3rd, 4th and 5th grade students. The goal of the program is to reduce the prevalence of noise-induced hearing loss and tinnitus in children by increasing knowledge that leads to a change in attitudes and high risk behaviors. With the constant advances in hearing aid technology, the Center continued its efforts, through free community educational open houses, to assure that consumers are educated about the options that are available to them, thereby giving them the ability to make informed decisions based on their individual needs.
